

DESTRUCTION OF BRITAIN'S FLEET DANGER FOR U. S.

—SEC. OF WAR STIMSON
Secretary is Witness
Before Committee on Aid Measure

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson objected today to writing into the lease-lend bill any prohibition against releasing American warships to Britain or any other nation because he said he could "foresee conditions" which might make it desirable that the navy be "transferred". He stated his position to the house foreign affairs committee before which he appeared in support of the administration measure.

He also told the committee in response to a question by Rep. Fish (R-N.Y.), "I think we are in very great danger of an invasion by air in the contingency that the British navy should be destroyed or surrendered".

The war department chief made this statement to the house foreign affairs committee in response to an inquiry by Representative Fish (R-N.Y.).

Stimson previously had endorsed President Roosevelt's bill for lend-lease aid to Britain.

Questioned by Fish

Fish started the questioning by asking whether the secretary thought that, with this country's naval strength, any foreign nation could invade our shores.

"Not now, probably not," Stimson replied slowly.

"Any time this year?" Fish pressed.

"I wouldn't dare to say any time this year."

Fish then raised the question whether the United States Army could repel a force of 50,000 troops should they be landed.

"I think they probably could, if the gentleman means a land invasion," Stimson responded, adding that he thought that air forces would accompany an attempted invasion by infantry.

"Is there any airplane built which could span the Atlantic, drop bombs here and return across the Atlantic?" Fish inquired.

"Probably not the width of the Atlantic," Stimson said, "but they are rapidly developing in that direction and there are many bases short of the full width of the Atlantic".

Names Bases

Asked by Fish what bases he had in mind, Stimson said:

"Newfoundland would be a base within easy range of all of our New England coast. North Canada would be within easy range of the New England coast".

"Does the secretary believe," Fish continued, "that our navy would remain locked up in our harbors if any such invasion were attempted?"

"No," said Stimson, "but where is our navy now?" (most of the big ships of the navy are presently based in the Pacific.)

Fish then inquired whether there was "fear of invasion", and the secretary replied that there

Midwest Due for 'Colder and Snow'

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A new mass of cold air rolled down from the midwest from Canada today, bringing a forecast of snow and freezing temperatures.

The Chicago weather bureau reported the snow would probably reach Minnesota, northern Wisconsin, and upper Michigan tonight. Iowa and southern Wisconsin may get freezing rain changing to snow tonight.

The storm was expected to move into northern Illinois tomorrow, Friday's forecast for Indiana was for rain and colder weather.

Chicago streets were glazed with ice today, causing automobile and pedestrian traffic to move slowly. All planes were grounded at the Municipal airport because of icing conditions above 2,000 feet.

Heavy fogs hung over sections of central and southern Illinois. The territory around Springfield escaped glazing conditions, however. At Centralia this morning driving visibility was about one block.

The dense fog blanketing central Illinois was blamed by state police today for a bus-truck collision in which Eugene Springer, 40, of Pleasant Plains, Ill., was killed. Springer was driver of an oil truck which figured in a head-on collision with a passenger bus three miles east of Pleasant Plains.

Luther A. Larson of Rock Island, driver of the bus, and one passenger, Ida Louise Jenkins of Vermont, Ill., received minor injuries.

In its noon bulletin, the state division of highways at Springfield reported paved routes were ice-covered north of Peoria and Kankakee this morning, but that most of the ice was expected to melt by evening.

Devastating?

Forrest City, Ark., Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Rev. Paul V. Galloway, 36, pastor of the First Methodist church here, proposed today dissolution of all Protestant churches and the "enforced" formation by the government of a National Protestant church.

"American churches will never come together in a unified manner for a great worldwide effort without being forced," he declared in an interview.

"Religious freedom has been the most devastating force of the church work. Instead of bringing us together, it has separated us into numerous sects and denominations x x x."

Co. A Ordered to Mobilize Feb. 24 for Its Induction

Lieutenant Wayne Wolfe today received official orders for members of Company A, 129th Infantry Illinois National Guard of Dixon, to report at the Armory between 8 and 10 o'clock on the morning of February 24, where they will be quartered until the time for leaving for Camp Peay, Tenn. The soldiers will drill, eat, sleep and find recreation at the Armory for at least a ten day period before entering for camp.

During the period at the Armory, regular U. S. Army officers and members of the medical corps will conduct physical examinations and induct the company into regular peace time army service. Due to the delay in the official induction date, Lieut. Wolfe has been permitted to extend the period for enlistment of members of the company to bring it to full strength. Five vacancies remain to be filled, he stated today.

Captain August Wimpleberg is attending an officers' training school at Fort Benning, Ga., and will not rejoin the company until its arrival at Camp Peay. In the official communication received today, Lieut. Wolfe, as company commander, was ordered to report at the 123rd Armory in Chicago on Feb. 3, to attend a special school for company commanders which will continue through Feb. 22, when he will return to Dixon to resume command of the company. During his absence, Second Lieutenant James Ketchin will act as company commander.

Annual Elections of Dixon Banks Wednesday

The annual meetings and election of officers of both Dixon banks took place yesterday afternoon, there being no change in either of the institutions. At the City National bank the following officers were re-elected:

Dr. Z. W. Moss, president; John L. Davies, vice president; Clyde H. Lenox, cashier; Vernon Tennant, assistant cashier. Directors, Dr. Z. W. Moss, L. G. Rorer, John L. Davies, H. C. Warner and Edgar L. Crawford.

Officers re-elected at the Dixon National bank were as follows: W. H. McMaster, president; Howard G. Byers and J. B. Lennon, vice presidents; Lester L. Wilhelm, cashier; Leo B. Miller, assistant cashier. Directors — Robert L. Bracken, W. H. Masters, F. X. Newcomer, W. E. Trein, Dement Schuler and Charles R. Walgreen, Jr.

Sheppard Makes Annual Speech on Prohibition

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Senator Sheppard (D-Texas), "father" of the eighteenth amendment, told his colleagues today that "an alcohol drinking democracy cannot develop the maximum strength for national defense".

The Texan spoke in observance of the twenty-first anniversary of the prohibition amendment, which he proposed be restored. It has been Sheppard's custom for years to observe the date with a speech in the senate.

Positive Definition of Powers to be Given President Asked by Hoover

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover called today on the House foreign affairs committee to draft immediately into the proposed aid-to-Britain bill positive definitions of the powers to be given President Roosevelt.

In a letter to committee chairman Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.), who said Tuesday the committee would be glad to hear all opponents and supporters of the measure, Hoover said:

"There is unfortunately growing up in the country a bitterness of discussion which it seems to me in the interest of national unity could be allayed by the committee."

Hoover, asserting that he favored extending "every practicable aid, short of war, to Britain" but that he did "not approve of our joining in the war," listed several points on which the controversy centered.

Gov. Dwight Green Will Make No More Changes
Before Jan. 28th

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Granting a "reprieve" to hold-over Democrats, Gov. Dwight H. Green has let it be known that he probably will make no more major appointments until after the legislature reconvenes January 23 following a recess.

To the Colors

Capt. Anderson received the ranking of major in the R. O. T. C. at the University of Illinois in 1931. During 1934-35 he was associated with Charles K. Willett of this city in the engineering profession and during 1936-37 was associated with the United States engineering corps on the Illinois river improvement project. In 1938, he returned to Dixon and since that time has been chief hydraulic engineer with C. K. Willett, consulting engineers of this city.

Capt. Anderson, whose home was in Chicago before he came to Dixon, and his wife have made many friends in Dixon who will regret their departure. Mrs. Anderson will join her husband when he is assigned to a permanent post.

SEVEN HOURS OF HELL WEATHERED BY 'ILLUSTRIOUS'

AP Man Aboard British Warship Writes of German Attacks

(Editor's Note: Larry Allen, Associated Press correspondent aboard the British aircraft carrier, Illustrious, Jan. 10 when Nazi dive bombers attacked her, has been an eye-witness of most of the action fought by the British fleet in the Mediterranean. Allen went to Europe in 1938 to cover the Spanish civil war for The Associated Press.)

By LARRY ALLEN

Aboard Aircraft Carrier Illustrious, Fleet, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Battered but still able to move under her own power, the aircraft carrier Illustrious has reached the comparative safety of a Mediterranean port after weathering one of the most punishing attacks a British warship has undergone in this war.

For seven hours on Jan. 10, German dive bombers rained explosives on her in an attempt to send her to the bottom as she plowed through the central Mediterranean with other fleet units escorting a big eastbound convoy.

Between 40 and 50 Nazi planes participated in the attack, diving low to release 1,000-pound bombs whose concussion shook the 23,000-ton vessel as a cat shakes a rat.

In all, 100,000 pounds of high explosive bombs were aimed at her flight deck and many torpedoes at her sides.

The second time the Germans came over, a low-flying Stuka dropped a bomb which exploded near the starboard side of the ship. The blast threw a column of water over the bridge and hurled me down a hatchway to aviation intelligence quarters one deck below. A sheet of fire burned my face.

Through Wall of Fire

Throughout the assault the carrier's pom-pom guns kept up a continuous fire, pitting up a wall of fire through which the Nazis dived head-on.

A flight of British planes which succeeded in taking off from the Illustrious before the Germans struck, also made the Nazis pay. The final score in German planes shot down was 12.

(D.N.B., the German official news agency, said the Illustrious suffered extensive damage to her port side and claimed it would be a long time before she could be put into service again.)

The British previously had announced in London that the Illustrious, the 9,100-ton cruiser Southampton and the 1,335-ton destroyer Gallant had been damaged.)

The attack on the Illustrious came after a British cruiser attached to the convoy sank one of the Nazis' newest destroyers, the 642-ton Vega, and damaged another.

Had Ringside Seat

I had a ringside seat for this engagement, during which the British cruiser also engaged Italian shore batteries (presumably on the Sicilian coast).

The cruiser opened the battle when she sighted the two destroyers dead ahead. A shell from the British vessel set one of the destroyers afire and she moved at top speed, losing herself in the mist along the coast as the cruiser engaged her mate.

The latter, the Vega, exchanged shell for shell with the cruiser until her magazine suffered a direct hit. I saw a great mass of flame shoot up from the Vega and she slipped swiftly beneath the waves with her entire crew of 94 men.

British naval units continued to fire at the Italian shore batteries, which fell silent after the Vega sank.

Blast Indescribable

One officer said later:

"It was the most tremendous, terrifying thing I have ever seen. It seemed like all the fires of hell had been kindled. The blast of a 1,000-bomb is so crushing, so incredible, there are no words to describe it."

When the Illustrious reached port 12 hours after the last German attack was over, fire squads rushed aboard and quickly extinguished a small fire in her interior. Shipwrights set to work at once plugging bomb holes and getting her ready to go to sea again.

The dead were taken out to sea for burial in the waters on which they had fought, and the wounded were taken ashore to hospitals.

Hughes May Recognize State at Inauguration At Request of Green

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Governor Dwight H. Green has asked Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes to represent the state of Illinois at the third term inauguration of President Roosevelt in Washington next Monday.

Green, who previously announced he would attend the inauguration, said last night he would be unable to leave the state for the ceremonies and had asked Hughes, a Democrat, to be the official representative.

Warning

Berlin, Jan. 16.—(AP)—German invasion of Britain in the fall of 1940 "would have spared the English people some distress and grief because the present form of aerial warfare which was conjured up by Churchill would have been avoided," Adolf Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter observed today.

The question as to why there was no invasion after the retreat at Dunkerque and after France's defeat will be answered by Germany at the opportune time and "not only with words," the paper said, warning that the British must keep on expecting it.

Cook Who Never Shoos Anyone Out of Kitchen Found

Do your friends shoe you out of their kitchens?

The Dixon Evening Telegraph has been checking up on these nervous relatives and friends who order innocent bystanders out of the mixing and baking zone in tones that suggest a scene if kitchen traffic isn't cleared promptly.

tery custards, spotty laundry, balky kitchen equipment and obstinate pastry—pastry that is always too long, or too short.

As this understanding home consultant says: "Strangely enough, it is the minor steps in cookery that pile up the most trouble. We are all apt to develop bad habits in measuring and mixing that are not only awkward, but actually double the time and effort".

"Steady traveling from state to state", she continues, "proves that home problems are universal, for women in New Hampshire and Oklahoma watch to see whether I cram down flour, shortening and brown sugar in measuring, or spoon it lightly into the cup. When I ease piecrust gently into the pan and remind the audience to let the pastry 'relax', I get the same appreciative smiles in every section of the country".

Guests and pastry will have an equal chance to "relax" while the Even small girls, who are ever so eager to watch mother measure and blend and whip that good-to-lick icing, often are told to "run along now and stay out of the kitchen until mother is through". And in later years, when those girls are grown and struggling with their own culinary problems, they still long to go sightseeing in a busy kitchen.

The Telegraph has located a competent specialist who will not be flustered by sightseers and questions. This nationally-known home economics authority, Mrs. Emily Lautz, never has been known to shoo guests from her kitchen, even when the "S. R. O." sign went up.

Privilege No More

Mexico City, Jan. 16.—(AP)—That treasured privilege of Mexican government workers, the siesta, is no more.

The ministry of interior ruled today that all public offices must remain open straight through the day, with no locking up to go home for a nap.

By way of consolation it eliminated the old style night office hours in order to conserve electricity.

Bureau County Legislators Accorded Important Posts in General Assembly

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Rep. Frederick W. Rennick of Buda, starting his tenth term in the legislature, is the new Republican majority floor leader in the Illinois House.

Representative Rennick, an attorney, was appointed floor leader by Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg with the approval of Gov. Dwight H. Green. Rep. Robert J. Branson of Centralia held the leadership post in the preceding General Assembly.

The new majority leader, who in effect becomes the House spokesman for the Green administration, represents the 37th district embracing Henry, Bureau and Stark counties and the cities of Kewanee, Princeton and Galva.

Schnackenberg also announced the reappointment of Rep. Hugh Green of Jacksonville as head of the House appropriations committee and Rep. David I. Swanson of Chicago as chairman of the judiciary committee.

Lieut. Governor Hugh W. Cross appointed Senator Richard J. Barr of Joliet, dean of the Senate, as chairman of judiciary in the upper branch and named Senator Thomas P. Gunning, Princeton, as chairman of the Senate committee on appropriations.

The four committee heads and Governor Green comprise a committee which will select a successor to the late Dewitt C. Billman as executive secretary of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

The reference bureau is the legislature's bill-drafting agency and also assists the governor in legislative matters.

Cross and Schnackenberg said they expected to name all Senate and House committees by January 28, when the legislature reconvenes after a recess.

Base of German North Sea Fleet Reported a Mass of Flame by RAF

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The German aerial offensive against the British fleet in the central Mediterranean has the early appearance of being preliminary to a dual effort—to save what is left of Mussolini's big Libyan army from destruction, and to prevent British support from reaching the victorious Greeks in Albania.

An initial objective would seem to be to smash a hole in the British blockade and thus re-establish water communications between Italy and Marshal Graziani's forces in Africa. This would permit of sending badly needed reinforcements and supplies.

This new operation is a continuation of Hitler's rescue party for his axis partner, who has been so badly trounced by the allies in Libya and Albania that he bids fair to lose his entire African empire. Unless quick aid reaches Graziana, he and his army are likely to be polished off and marched away to a prison camp.

While the Nazi offensive hasn't begun as a major affair, it obviously might develop into something more elaborate should fortune smile on it.

However, the Nazis can succeed only if they establish supremacy over the Royal Air Force in the Mediterranean zone. Lacking this control, the German warplanes which are operating from Sicily can scarcely hope to down the British navy and air force combined.

Military circles in London believe Hitler may be planning to send German troops to Graziana's aid, if the blockade can be reached. That might be a good move for the axis, for the purpose of defending fortified areas like the ports of Tripoli and Bengasi.

However, Nazi troops would be handicapped in actual desert warfare, since that calls for highly specialized training.

Having thus pointed to the weakness of the Nazis as desert fighters, I really must record an incident during the World War, at the time of the battle in the Sinai desert east of the Suez canal.

The Turks, partly officered by Germans, had confounded most military experts by marching an army of some 14,000 across the waterless desert, dragging artillery through the deep, loose sand.

There grows in the desert a little plant, like a cactus, which is as tough and wiry as a bunch of steel springs. The German engineers had hit upon the scheme of making a sort of railroad track, the width of a gun carriage, with this plant and over this unique track the guns were brought into play against the British.

Lindbergh Disclaims Any Relation With Marshall's No Foreign Group

New York, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh said today that while he had "attempted to cooperate with all American organizations opposed to our entering the war in Europe" he had no connection with the No Foreign War Committee.

Verne Marshall, chairman of the No Foreign War Committee which was formed Dec. 17, was not immediately available for comment.

Marshall said Tuesday that it was Col. Lindbergh who persuaded him to accept the chairmanship. He has stated that the committee has only two objectives—one, to keep the United States out of the war, and two, to prevent the administration from giving away or lending America's defenses.

British Cruiser Scuttled by Crew

London, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The British announced tonight that last Friday's attack by German dive bombers and Italian planes on a Mediterranean convoy caused the British naval forces to sink the badly damaged 9,100-ton cruiser Southampton.

Crew broke out aboard the warship while she was being towed to port, said a communiqué, the crew abandoned ship and she was sunk. Most of the crew was saved.

In the attack, the first real show of German aerial force in the Mediterranean area, the 23,000-ton aircraft carrier Illustrious, was also damaged. That same day the British destroyer Gallant of 1,335 tons, likewise was damaged. Both these were able to reach port.

Another Admiralty communiqué said the British submarine Pandora had sunk two Italian supply ships of about 5,000 tons south bound in the central Mediterranean.

The British sank an Italian destroyer in or near the Sicilian channel, between Sicily and the North African mainland, shortly before the Nazi dive bombers, apparently based in Sicily, opened their attack.

Twelve planes were shot down in that engagement, the Admiralty said Tuesday.

Four-Hr. Attack Over Night a Success: Other War News

BULLETIN

(By The Associated Press)

London, Jan. 16.—British bombers left the main base of the German North Sea fleet "a waste of flame" in a four-hour attack overnight on Wilhelmshaven which exceeded any yet made on that port, the air ministry announced today.

The attack was focused on Bauhafen, a square harbor joined by the Hafen canal to the other harbors and the sea, where there are shipways, docks, engineering works, stores, assembling sheds, armor plate shops, foundries, iron works and gun stores, the account related.

Within this section, said the air ministry, were "areas of raging fire".

A large proportion of Wilhelmshaven's military objectives are in this part of the port, it was stated.

Other attacks were made on Emden, Bremerhaven and Flushing.

SUMMARY OF NEWS

(By The Associated Press)

British RAF bombers pounded the Wilhelmshaven naval base overnight and smashed at the new German air base at Catania, Sicily—springboard for a Nazi aerial offensive against the British Mediterranean fleet.

Even as reports were made on these assaults, fresh details emerged today of the "seven hours of hell" rained on the aircraft carrier Illustrious by German dive-bombers Jan. 10.

Hitler's high command acknowledged 20 killed and 5 wounded in the RAF's night-long assault on Wilhelmshaven, which the British described as "the heaviest and most successful" in a series of 40 attacks on the port.

An Associated Press correspondent aboard the Illustrious reported 40 to 50 Nazi planes dropped 100,000 pounds of high explosives and "many torpedoes" whose concussion, he said, shook the 23,000-ton ship "as a cat shakes a rat".

The German planes which participated in the attack were said to have flown from the base at Catania.

The Italian high command declared that the RAF night raiders inflicted only "minor damage" at Catania, with several killed.

Plan Tobruk Assault

In Libya, British forces took advantage of a respite from a week of heavy sandstorms to labor with redoubled energy at getting ready for an assault on the besieged Italian garrison at Tobruk.

Artillery fire from the British guns ringing the town continued steadily but an Associated Press reporter at the scene said it had not yet reached the withering force of that which preceded the fall of Bardia.

Greek troops attacked in a snowstorm, dispatches from Albania said, and drove Italian forces from important heights along the central front. The bad weather held up action on the other fronts, a Greek spokesman said.

In Tokyo, the Japanese press urged haste in pushing Japan's "southward program" and exhort-

Good Faith Main Issue in 'I Am-ers' Trial, Judge Says

Los Angeles, Jan. 16—(AP)—Judge Leon R. Yankovich says the question of good faith is the main issue in the trial of nine leaders of the "I Am" movement on mail fraud charges.

He made the ruling yesterday in denying a defense motion for an instructed verdict of acquittal of the defendants, including Mrs. Edna W. Ballard, head of the organization and widow of its founder.

Final arguments of counsel were scheduled today.

Judge Yankovich instructed the jury to disregard testimony concerning the asserted healing power of colors; testimony that $190,000 had passed through the hands of Ted Dahl, former "I Am" advertising manager; evidence concerning the sale of jewelry, and testimony concerning the purported supernatural experience of the late Guy W. Ballard, founder of the movement.

"Persecution" Denied

He also directed that the jury disregard the testimony of Charles Sindelar, artist and one of the defendants, that he painted portraits of Christ and of St. Germain, an "Ascended Master", after they had appeared to him in visions.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Ralph Lazarus disclaimed any purpose on the part of the prosecution to "persecute" the defendants.

Defense Attorney Ames Peterson, in a brief argument, propounded another question: "How can you convict people on charges of misrepresenting the true facts by use of the mails when scores of witnesses representing hundreds and thousands of followers have testified they were taught morality and clean living, fidelity to America and that they had found the greatest thing in their lives?"

Harvester Co. Agrees to Limited Parley on Demands

Chicago, Jan. 16—(AP)—The International Harvester Company has agreed to discuss on a limited scope the wage and contractual questions put to it by the Farm Equipment Workers Organizing Committee.

In signifying willingness for a conference, Sydney G. McAllister, company president, told the FEWOC yesterday that the parleys were to cover plants in only two of six cities where the C. I. O. union has threatened to call strikes.

The designated plants were the Chicago tractor works and the Richmond, Ind., unit. In both branches the FEWOC is the accredited bargaining representative.

Gerald Fields, FEWOC secretary-treasurer, said the union would agree to confer but that any agreement arrived at concerning the two plants "are contingent upon a satisfactory settlement of our corporation-wide demand."

Other plants covered in the union demands are at Milwaukee, Wis., and East Moline, Rock Island and Rock Falls, Ill.

TO PROTECT CHILDREN

London, Jan. 16—(AP)—Malcolm MacDonald, minister of health, today ordered the compulsory removal from the Greater London area of all children under 14 considered likely to suffer "in mind or body" from air attacks if they remain in or near the capital.

Only four of the states are larger in area than Arizona. They are Texas, California, Montana and New Mexico, in that order.

Nevada is twice as large in area as European Italy.

Lee County FFA Boys Initiated in Degree Here

Approximately 100 persons braved the icy roads to witness the first all-county F. F. A. Greenhand initiation ceremonies here at the high school last night.

Thirty-five boys from the six chapters in Lee county received the degree. The ceremonies were conducted by the chapter presidents of their respective organizations and the officers for the evening, drawn by lot, were: President, Robert Meyers of Amboy; vice-president, Elmer Ringier of Dixon; secretary, Ivan Hullah of Franklin Grove; treasurer, Laurence Clayton of Lee Center; reporter, Russell Semmler of Ashton; watchdog, Edgar Marks of Paw Paw and adviser, L. V. Slothower of Ashton.

The official National F. F. A. ritual was followed in administration of the degree.

Dr. A. W. Nolan of the department of agricultural education of the University of Illinois, was the speaker of the evening and gave an inspiration address on the subject of "Goals for the Youth of Today."

Urges Pioneer Spirit

He brought out the fact that the same spirit and strength which our pioneer forefathers possessed is as much needed today as ever before in the history of our country. He listed the qualities of strength, courage, honor, loyalty and friendship as the characteristics which can do most in preserving democracy.

Dr. Nolan feels strongly that no one place is as well suited to the development of such qualities as the farm and in such organizations as the F. F. A.

An all-county chorus composed of F. F. A. members from the six chapters sang three songs "America the Beautiful," "God Bless America" and "Hail the F. F. A." Miss Carolyn Bergsted of the Dixon high school faculty directed the group.

The meeting was brought to a close using the official closing ceremonies with a pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Dixon Initiates

Dixon boys receiving pins were: Bob Whiting, Dale Bowers, Dale Weidman, Trevor Campbell, Neil Huggins, Howard Book, William Mayes, Duane Higgs, Richard Hoyle, Robert Kibble, Louis Wohrley and David Fane.

This is the first time that an all-county F. F. A. event of this nature has been held and it is proposed that it be made an annual affair.

Had weather conditions been satisfactory, it is estimated that at least 350 people would have attended last night's event.

An observer on Mars would see solar and lunar eclipses almost every day.

State Highway System Criticized by Head of Road Builders Society

Chicago, Jan. 16—(AP)—The highway problem in Illinois, says Otto A. Milburn, can be likened to that of fitting a 10-ton truck into a garage built for a passenger car.

Criticizing what he termed "dilly-dallying with road problems in the past decade", Milburn, newly elected president of the Illinois Road Builders' Association, told that group last night that "Mr. Average Motorist may be crowded off our roads during 1941 by military and defense-inspired industrial traffic".

He cited statistics purporting to show that the 1941 motorist has less than half the road space he had ten years ago.

Milburn, a Rockford resident, succeeded Herbert R. Anderson of Chicago as association president.

FOR U. S. S. "ILLINOIS"

Washington—(AP)—President Roosevelt has approved the name of Illinois for one of seven battleships of 45,000 tons or more on which construction is getting under way.

WHERE IT GOT ITS NAME

Our word "tulip" comes from a Turkish word, "tulband," meaning "turban," because of the flower's resemblance to the Turkish headdress.

Many Gadgets to Help Housewives at Furniture Show

Chicago, Jan. 16—(AP)—Random ramblings at the National Home Furnishings Show and the International Home Furnishings Market:

Manufacturers of household washers and ironers have practically put "brains" in their products: timers, thermometers and speed regulators, all automatic.

A new completely automatic dishwasher enables the housewife to wash, rinse and dry the dishes with one touch of a button.

And a refrigerator features a special compartment to keep the butter at "spreading consistency".

Here's help for those who have lugged large hassocks across a room or tried to pull them over a carpet: They now are equipped with ball feet and metal gliders.

One manufacturer of outdoor furniture went strong for gliders, chairs and umbrellas with covers in South American designs, Guatemalan colors and Latin American "dazzle".

John Gilmore, secretary of the Southern Retail Furniture Association, Charlottesville, Va., advocates vocational training for furniture store salesmen throughout the nation.

Woodrow Wilson was a lover of limericks and often wrote them himself.

Illinois Man One of Four Indicted in New York for Oil Swindle

New York—(AP)—Four men, including Alfred C. Leathers, a Springfield, Ill., oil promoter, were indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of swindling Miss Johanna A. Bayer, 73, Garden City, N. Y., of more than $60,000. The indictment alleged that Miss Bayer was fraudulently induced to invest in Illinois gas and oil leases and in shares of several nonexistent concerns.

Besides Leathers, those indicted were Samuel J. Mustain, New York, under sentence of 3 1/2 years for another mail fraud; D. Stewart White, salesman, and Willard J. Thomas, Philadelphia, salesman. Leathers and Thomas have not been apprehended.

Well Known Methodist Bishop Dies in South

Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 16—(AP)—Bishop Horace Mellard Dubose, 82, learned scholar and administrator of the former Southern Methodist church until he retired seven years ago, died yesterday. His retirement came before the final unification of the three branches of Methodism for which he had long labored.

What Constipation Victims Suffer Is Delayed Elimination

Common symptoms are NERVOUSNESS, TIRED, SICKLY FEELING, INDIGESTION, GAS AND LOSS OF APPETITE. WHY THIS STOMACHIC TONIC MEDICINE IS OFTEN NEEDED. When the bowels need help, the stomach often needs help too. When elimination of wastes is retarded, the body is full of poisons. That's why you may feel nervous, tired, sickly, indigestion, gas, and loss of appetite. That's why you may feel full of food in the morning, feel tired, run down, unable to do your best work. That may be why you don't enjoy the fun of life and the thrill of really living.

For real results, you've got to stimulate BOTH the bowels and stomach to carry on their normal functions. You can do it with ONE time-proven formula, Dr. Peter Fahey's genuine Alpen Krauter. Composed from 18 of nature's most powerful medicinal herbs, Alpen Krauter is a real internal stomachic tonic medicine. It speeds digestion and overcomes the appetite. Alpen Krauter is gentle removal of clinging, stale, old waste products that may make you feel "low" and played out. Ask for the genuine Dr. Peter Fahey's ALPEN KRAUTER with laxative-plus action from your nearest Fahey Agent today.

Five Indiana High School Pupils to Face Prosecution

Middletown, Ind., Jan. 16—(AP)—Four high school pupils and a former pupil were at liberty under bond today awaiting arraignment on charges growing out of a near-riot Tuesday which caused indefinite closing of the Middletown school.

The five were arrested yesterday afternoon on affidavits filed by Prosecutor Loring Niles Charles Riley, 17-year-old senior gave $2,000 bail for his release on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill Paul Brattan, acting town marshal.

Bonds of $500 each were posted by Mervil and Robert Young, brothers, and Grover Wood, pupils, and D. E. Shirey, former pupil and son of Wilbur Shirey, superintendent. They were charged with simple assault. A girl pupil was ordered to appear in Juvenile Court at New Castle today with her parents.

The prosecutor said the fight apparently was an aftermath of the elder Shirey's dismissal, which resulted in two strikes by the pupils last month.

The latest disturbance was precipitated by expulsion of the Wood boy by C. R. Young, the new superintendent, who said the youth disobeyed school rules.

Most birds observe territorial boundaries, and each bird defends his nesting area against other birds seeking to intrude.

Watch Family Now While Epidemic Colds Are Spreading

At a treacherous time like this, with an epidemic of contagious colds all around you, what you do today may save you and your family a lot of sickness, worry and trouble later.

Follow these simple rules of health: Live normally. Avoid excesses. Eat simple food. Drink plenty of water. Keep elimination regular. Take some exercise daily—preferably outdoors. Get plenty of rest and sleep.

Then use these two time-tested treatments when needed.

AT THE FIRST SNIFGLE, SNEEZE OR NASAL IRRITATION... put a few drops of Vicks VapoRub on each nostril. This helps to prevent many colds from developing, because VapoRub is expressly designed to help Nature's own defenses against colds. (If a head cold causes stuffiness, you'll find that a few drops of VapoRub helps clear the clogging mucus and makes breathing freer and easier.)

IF A CHEST COLD OR COUGHING COLD DEVELOPS (some colds get by all precautions) use Vicks VapoRub to relieve misery. Rub VapoRub on throat, chest and back and cover with a warm cloth. VapoRub acts to bring relief 2 ways at once. It stimulates surface of chest and back like a poultice. At the same time it releases helpful medicinal vapors that are breathed direct into the irritated air passages.

Both Vapo-nol and VapoRub have been tested through years of use in millions of homes. When you use these two medicines you are not experimenting, you are not taking needless chances. Remember: If the condition of the cold fails to respond quickly to treatment—or if more serious trouble is indicated—call your family physician right away. In the meantime be prepared! Get a bottle of Vicks Vapo-nol and a jar of Vicks VapoRub today—have them handy, ready to use.

THE FINE CAR WITH THE LOW PRICE

De Luxe "Torpedo" Six Two-Door Sedan $874* (white sidewall tires extra)

What's more, owners say that their Pontiacs are very economical to operate. If you're planning to buy a new car soon, be sure to consider a Pontiac "Torpedo." It's built right and priced right to give you more for your money.

PONTIAC PRICES BEGIN AT $828 FOR THE DE LUXE "TORPEDO" SIX BUSINESS COUPE

*Delivered at Pontiac. State tax, optional equipment, accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice.

MANY PEOPLE FIND it hard to believe that a new Pontiac "Torpedo" costs as little as it does. That is easy to understand. Pontiac looks like a lot of money. And the luxury of its Fisher body adds definitely to that impression.

In reality, however, Pontiac prices are within reach of any new car buyer. They begin at $828 and progress upward in very easy stages.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to excite and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and disapproved of by the opposite party, and thus their country suffers from their zeal." From the Farewell Address.

Savings Increasing

For the seventh consecutive year, savings deposits of the banks of the United States have increased.

Last mid-summer they reached the stupendous total of $25,750,000,000. There were 45,791,265 accounts, and while that does not mean the same number of depositors, since some people have more than one account, it certainly suggests that savings are more widely distributed among the people than some would have us think.

This gives a clue to the funds the government proposes to tap if it begins to float war loans in the manner of 1917-19. For this is money on deposit, actually in existence, and if borrowed by the government for bonds, it does not increase the amount of money and thus tend toward inflation as would borrowing from banks which simply create a book-keeping credit. It is another glimpse of the defensive sinews of this great country.

The Blind Do Their Bit

In these days when everyone is being asked to do his part in national defense, there is a challenge in the fact that even the blind have found a way in which they can help.

Four million pillow cases are being made for the army camps by blind workers in 22 work shops scattered through 12 states. Through the American Foundation for the Blind, this work has been allocated, and has brought a sense of usefulness to hundreds of blind men and women who never before have been able to do productive work.

Thus from the darkness in which 200,000 Americans live, comes a stream of material for soldiers' comfort, and one more close contact to integrate that darkened world with the world of light.

Dictatorships, more than anything else, are re- ceiverships.—James S. Kemper, president, Chamber of Commerce of the U. S.

CONSCRIPT'S WIFE

BY BETTY WALLACE

COPYRIGHT 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY, Martha evades Paul, makes preparations to visit him. Paul suddenly appears at the apartment, apparently intending to go alone. When Martha finally tells him she doesn't want him to go, he asks what is wrong. She has been avoiding him. He had promised Bill to look after her. She finally tells him that before Bill left there were three of them—

CHAPTER X

PAUL ELLIOTT stared down at Martha, speechlessly, as the echo of her words hung in the stillness. "The three of us," she had cried. And the implications of those words were suddenly filling the room—suddenly so plain, so clear, so hurting—that she wanted to run away from him. She could not bear the look in his eyes, the way a muscle in his lean cheek was twitching.

"Oh, I didn't want to hurt him," Martha thought in dismay. "He's so fine, so worthwhile. Maybe I'm destroying something I'll never find again. I hurt him even when I married him. He forgave that. She thought of the clean, unselfish friendship—the strong arm, always ready to help her—and she experienced a sinking sense of loss.

"I didn't mean to say that, Paul," she cried quickly. "I—I didn't mean it—the way it sounds."

"Sit down, Martha," Paul said gently. "Sit down here and let's talk this over."

"But—but there's nothing to talk over." Again the panic and the uncertainty—as if her feet were set on a bit of earth that kept sliding out from under her. "The whole thing's silly, really. I—I didn't mean to put it that way." Her fingers smoothed the maroon housecoat, played with the ornaments on the zipper pull.

PAUL pushed her gently down on the sofa. He sat beside her. "Martha, we must be honest with each other. Since this thing has come up—since we've already started discussing it—let's drag it out into the light and examine it. You have been avoiding me. Definitely, I couldn't understand why. What you just told me makes it very clear. It's because Bill is not here."

Almost, his voice was like the voice of the Paul who sat in the private office at Air Transport, discussing with the chief engineer the stresses, strains, and examining the evidence to explain the crumpling of a wing in the wind tunnel. "You said 'the three of us'." Meaning, now that there are just two, you and I"—he smiled, but his eyes weren't smiling—"The

A Time of Opportunity

Most of us think of these as pretty scabby times. Our lives are interrupted, our spirits are frayed, and wherever we look about us there is no peace.

Yet Dr. Alexis Carrel, who looks at mankind from a somewhat longer viewpoint than most can achieve, believes "there has perhaps never been a moment so opportune for human progress."

Responsibility, sacrifice, and heroism are as essential as health, strength, agility, and endurance. Dr. Carrel believes, and moral training, too long neglected, should be added to physiological training. He believes it possible in America today to develop "men of greater physical and spiritual value than have lived at any other time in the history of the world."

It is easy today to look downward and backward. It is good that we have still some men who can look upward and forward.

Titled Termites

A great deal of thought is being given to refugees. We don't want any of this political persuasion, or that racial origin. We are choosy.

But there is one "Open Sesame" that seems to swing wide all doors in this democratic country—a title. Any kind of a moth-eaten, semi-bogus, home-repudiated, showproof title will do. The country is flooded with exiles, refugees, visitors, lecturers and sojourners affecting titles of nobility. There are always people glad to give Mike Romanoff, the entertaining phony, the same cordial welcome they give to duller but more genuine royalty.

Some people might be inclined to grow serious about the activities of the titled termites. We can't. In most cases the people who accept such visitors on title and without requiring them to prove themselves, are as void of influence and solid worth as the titles themselves.

Just Beginning

Lots of people are worried because there seem to have been holes in the Hatch Act.

Not Senator Carl A. Hatch, who wrote it. "I sort of expected that there might be some violations," he said in New York recently. "You can't expect practices of long standing to be disrupted overnight. The Hatch acts are just beginning."

That's usually the way under democratic procedure—and under any other, if the truth were known. The perfect solution of nothing is ever hit the first time out.

Dictators cover up their mistakes, and change policies secretly.

Democracies must wash their dirty dishes and remodel their legislative clothing in public.

Dictatorship vs. Democracy

One question which probably will be debated in Congress when that body considers President Roosevelt's lend-lease bill for aid to Britain is this: Can the thing be done best under a semi-dictatorship, as the bill suggests, or by a democracy?

As one of the bill's sponsors says, the best way to get help to Britain is to lodge all the power in one man.

The intent is to save democracy.

There is one thing worth more than democracy. That thing is liberty.

Census shows there are 130,000,000 people in the U. S. who are disappointed with the weather.

Do your income tax worrying early and avoid the rush.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Jan. 16.—The secret of all war secrets is the desperate effort to develop a defense against night bombing. The Germans are working on it as hard as the British, although only the British have admitted it.

Prime Minister Churchill's bare promise of an answer soon referred to a radio device designed to pick up the sound of an invading motor and lead British pursuit ships right to it through the darkness. This involves a lot of extraneous problems, such as identifying foe from friend, providing accurate firing range, avoiding collisions.

German bombers are perfectly camouflaged a dull gray. Their engines are cross-muffled so that no exhaust flames can be discerned. As matters stand now the best of British planes could not find a German in any given spot on a dark night if he knew the German was there. But even when you can see them, it is impossible to gauge distances accurately for firing or pursuit.

The unglided truth is both nations are practically defenseless against this type of attack today. Anti-aircraft guns make a lot of noise, but bring down few assailants. Balloon barrages may catch a plane a week. The British have even ceased to claim that they have shot down any appreciable number of night raiders lately.

Actually the only limitations on this type of un-military destruction so far have been the consciences if any, of the belligerents, and the number of bombers available.

Daylight bombing has practically ceased. Winter weather over England may have held this type of attack down, but the defense provided by fast pursuit ships has made daylight raiding very dangerous and impractical in any weather.

Never has there been an attacking weapon conceived, for which there was no adequate defense. Night defense is just a tougher nut to crack than anything else developed so far in this war, and it may take some more time to solve it.

No doubt the ultimate answer will be an efficient night fighter plane, just as the answer to daylight raiding was the fast pursuit ship. If the radio device is used, however, it will have to include a lot of satisfactory supplementary instruments before it can be conceded the solution.

Stories out of London lately have been casting some aspersions at American planes. They are supposed to be inferior not only to the German but the British. One story recounted that only last week was the first American plane put into action with the result that the German pursuit ship was shot down.

While such matters involve information that might be of help to the Germans and therefore cannot be talked about in the open, there is another side to the story more important than the one which has been presented. Most of the planes sent to Britain until recently were the old army types which were considered obsolescent for many purposes a year ago. They were mostly planes contracted by the French and later turned over to the British. They were not bought for blitz combat but for use in Africa, (where they are not obsolete) and are training planes. These and others were deficient in only one point or two, mostly firing power, armor, leak proof gas tanks. All of them were superior to the Germans in maneuverability, which is what the French needed.

The new production now being delivered to the British is the equal in nearly any line and the superior in some lines to anything now in European skies. The plane reported as the first in combat may have been the first of a certain new type, but the fact is American planes have been in the fight from the start of the war.

Straight-line reports from the Balkans suggest to analysts here the Germans have put far fewer men into Rumania than the 500,000 reported. However, they have been accompanied with mechanized equipment indicating they are going somewhere and are not just there to live off the land.

Operations before spring or summer would, however, be extremely difficult in view of the well known condition of the terrain before the sun dries out the roads.

FREDERICK H. MANNING
(Contributed)

Frederick Henry Manning was born in Montmorency township, Whiteside county, May 16, 1868, and passed away at the age of 72 years, four months and 24 days. He passed away Friday afternoon, Jan. 10, 1941, at 3 o'clock at his home in South Dixon township, death resulting from angina pectoris. He slipped away with no warning.

He became a member of the Christian church in Mitchellville, Iowa in his earlier manhood. Mr. Manning spent most of his life in and near Dixon with the exception of 11 years in Iowa and during this time he has been a successful farmer and land owner.

On July 4, 1891, he was united in marriage to Anna Bollman of Nelson township. To this union were born eight children, six daughters and two sons: Avis Young of Nelson; Ferne Waldman of Chicago; Era Roden of Chicago; Goldie Brodeur of Burlingame, Calif.; Florence Stone of Chicago; Gertrude Manning of Los Angeles, Calif.; Harold Manning of Dixon, Fred, Jr., who preceded him in death, Sept. 14, 1940. Besides his widow and children he leaves to mourn his passing his granddaughter, Shirley Brodeur of Burlingame, Calif., two nieces, Mrs. J. C. Wadsworth of Dixon, Mrs. Myrtle Carrow of Spencer, Iowa, and one nephew, William Speigle of Rock Falls, Mr. Manning was a good husband, a loving father and a kind and willing neighbor.

Funeral services were conducted Monday from the Melvin funeral home. Rev. Lloyd W. Walters, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church officiating. Mrs. Snavely and Mrs. Lepid, accompanied by Mrs. Eleanor Chapman sang two of his favorite hymns, Lead Kindly Light and In The Garden. Interment was in the Zion cemetery in Nelson township.

The casket bearers were: Wilbur Fulfs, Harry Fisher, Will Fritz, George Heid, Fred Elsie and Fred Geer.

CALVIN T. UNDERHILL
(Contributed)

Calvin Thomas Underhill, the son of Ruth Reid and Elmer Underhill, was born in Amboy on September 21, 1937, and died at the age of 3 years, 3 months and 20 days. He passed away at 11 o'clock Friday morning at the Amboy public hospital. He had been sick for only a short time with pneumonia and complications and his death was a great shock to the many relatives and friends.

He leaves to mourn his passing: his parents; two sisters, Beverly and Joyce Underhill; four grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Underhill and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Reid; and other near relatives and friends.

"Tommy" was well liked by everyone and great sorrow has indeed come to those who loved him. The little bed is empty now, The little clothes laid by. A father's pride, a mother's joy In death's cold arms doth lie.

Go, little pilgrim, to thy home On yonder blissful shore. We miss thee now, but soon will come, Where thou hast gone before.

There was an angel band in heaven That was not quite complete. So God took our darling little Tommy To fill the vacant seat.

Our little darling to heaven has gone, A voice we loved so dear is still. A vacant place in all our hearts, Which never can be filled.

—Grandma Underhill.

Final rites were held Sunday afternoon. A prayer was given at the house at 1:30, by Rev. Anderson of the Methodist church.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church at 2 o'clock. Rev. Adam Baum of the Baptist church gave a short prayer, and the services taken care of by Rev. J. Frank Anderson.

Burial was at Chapel Hill Memorial park at Dixon.

"CHRIST'S RETURN"
SUBJECT
The Rev. A. F. Mahler, Jewish Christian evangelist, conducting a series of meetings in Bethel U. E. church on North Galena avenue, is using as his subject this evening, the "Second Coming of Christ." He expects to demonstrate the change of the law of the Scriptures when Christ returns. This message follows two illustrated messages given on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in which the evangelist illustrated some of the things predicted in the Book of Revelations. He pointed out some of the tribulations and persecution that would come to the Christians, and the victory that would be attained in the end, while the anti-Christian world would be judged with terrible judgments.

This is the second week of the series of meetings, according to the Rev. R. H. Wilson, pastor of the church. The service on Friday evening will center around the Jewish Passover as now celebrated by orthodox Jews throughout the world. Mr. Mahler was born in an orthodox Jewish home in Austria, and was converted to Christianity about 25 years ago. He is familiar with the Jewish customs and will wear the gown used at the Passover, and demonstrate with the bitter herbs, unleavened bread and other articles used in the Jewish observance the passover today. This service will be of special interest to many people, and friends from the community are invited.

Sunday has been announced as the last day of the campaign, there being no service Saturday evening. The evangelist will preach at the morning church service at 10:45 and in the evening at 7:30.

Dr. A. H. Lybyer Is Next Lecturer for Dixon Forum

"The Trend of World Events" will be the subject of Dr. Albert Lybyer's address when he takes the lecture platform of the Dixon Forum Monday evening in the Loveland Community House auditorium. Dr. Lybyer, whose 8 o'clock lecture will be the third in a series of five sponsored by the Forum, will come to Dixon from the University of Illinois campus.

The university professor's courses in recent European history are broadcast over radio station WILL. He is an internationally-renowned historian, whose analysis of current events is as up to date as the last broadcast.

According to his biography in "Who's Who," Dr. Lybyer was born in Indiana. After receiving various degrees from Harvard, Princeton and other eastern schools, he taught for seven years at Roberts college, Constantinople.

Returning to the United States, he taught at Harvard in Cambridge, Mass., and for some time, has been associated with the University of Illinois. In 1918, he went to Europe as a member of Colonel House's committee inquiring into terms of peace.

The following year, he went to Paris to serve with the Balkans division of the American committee to negotiate peace. He also served as technical adviser to the American committee on mandates in Turkey that same year.

Among the many honors that have come to Dr. Lybyer, perhaps the outstanding recognition is that of having been voted a Fellow in the Royal Historical Society. Among his many writings is "The Government of the Ottoman Empire in the time of Suleiman the Magnificent." He was also a contributor to the Encyclopaedia Britannica. The remaining two lectures in the Forum series, available to holders of season tickets are: Dr. John Holland, "Children's Rights," March 3, and Sam Campbell, "Behind the Scenes in Nature," March 12.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN ARE PARTY HOSTESSES; 360 GUESTS CIRCLE TABLES

A large share of Dixon's card players—360 of them anyway—were matching their skill at bidding, finessing, and the like across 90 tables of contract and auction bridge, 500 pinochle and cribbage last evening at the party sponsored by Dixon Wa-Tan-Yans for benefit of Katherine Shaw Betha hospital. The huge throng of guests occupied every available table in the main dining room of the Loveland Community House, and overflowed into a nearby club room, as well as the auditorium upstairs.

While tallies were being collected and compared, refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Guest favors were distributed to Mrs. Fred Lewis, Mrs. E. Coover, Miss Dorothy Hofmann, C. C. Clausen, and Mrs. J. C. Hawker. Mrs. Robert Sanborn, Dwight Chapman, Mrs. Welty, Dr. Robert Lesage, and Mrs. Jane Gannon received favors at the contract tables. Mrs. Clay R. Collins and Mrs. Omer J. Drew shared honors in auction.

Mrs. Alice Ommen, Harry Hoerner, Miss Elvira Altpeter, J. A. Snyder and Helen Woodrow were fortunate in 500, and at pinochle, the score favors went to Mrs. John Duffy, Vincent Stephenson, Mrs. Fred Page, and Hugh Cruise. Michael E. McMahon and E. L. Fulmer were awarded the cribbage prizes.

Miss Grace Koeppe and Mrs. Roy Wilhelm were co-chairmen for the party. Profits are to be used to swell the chapter's fund to purchase furnishings for a room in the new addition at the hospital.

WALDER-DICK PARTIES ARE ATTENDED BY 48

Mrs. H. F. Walder and Mrs. Gavin Dick have entertained 48 guests at luncheon and bridge the past two days. Bouquets of sweetpeas trimmed their party tables, which were arranged at the Walder home on Dement avenue.

Mrs. Wayne Wolf and Mrs. Grover Gehant received score favors at yesterday's party. On Tuesday, Mrs. John Haines and Mrs. Adolph Eichler were fortunate in the contract games.

HIGHLAND CLUB
Mrs. James Curran and Mrs. Thomas Jordan entertained at luncheon Tuesday evening at the former's home for members of the Highland Avenue club. Mrs. John Bennett, Mrs. Mettie Thompson and Mrs. Hazel Cashion received score favors.

Mr. Albert Petit and Mrs. Cashion are to be the February hostesses.

DANCE DATE

Thursday evening, Feb. 13, is the date which Royal Cardinals have chosen for the Valentine dance which they are planning as a benefit for their milk fund. Earl Beaton's orchestra from Kankakee, a band which has long been favored by Dixon dancers, has been engaged for the event, and the Loveland Community House auditorium is to be the setting.

Miss Lorraine Giannoni, newly-elected president of the service group, is superintending the party plans. With the proceeds, the club members will continue to supply milk for underprivileged school children of Dixon.

DINNER CLUB

The E. O. Millers entertained their fortnightly dinner club on Monday evening. Mrs. Willard Moore and Louis Leydig held high score. In the contract games, which will be continued in two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kennedy.

Maytown Couple Exchanges Vows at Church Altar

Nuptial high mass was solemnized at 8:30 a. m. Tuesday at St. Patrick's church in Maytown for Miss Ruby Miller, eldest daughter of the Floyd Millers of Maytown, and Walter King, only son of the Fred Kings of Maytown. The Rev. Father Urban Halmaier performed the ceremony.

Miss Marie Faivre sang the mass, Francis Burke, Raymond Becker, and Joseph Quest served.

Miss Arlene Henkle and Elmer King attended the couple. The best man is a cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride wore pink chiffon over satin and a pink head dress of flowers and ribbons. Pink roses formed her arm bouquet. Miss Henkle was dressed in blue tulle, with a blue headress, and carried yellow roses.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony. A three-tiered cake decorated the center of the table.

The bride was graduated from Amboy Township high school in 1939. Mr. King is engaged in farming. For the present, the couple will make their home with the bridegroom's parents in Maytown.

Family of Dixon Captain Plans to Leave for South

By the time Feb. 1 arrives on the calendar, a number of Dixon families will have taken up residences at new addresses near and far.

Mrs. Gus Wimpelberg of 1513 Third street is busy occupied with packing and moving plans these mid-January days and by the first of the month, expects to be established in a new home on Hobson avenue in Shelbyville, Tenn. Captain Wimpelberg, who heads Company A, 129th Infantry, Illinois National Guard, entered a staff officers' school at Fort Benning in Georgia in December for a three months' course, and by March, expects to be located at Camp Peay, near Shelbyville.

Mrs. Wimpelberg will be accompanied south by her three children, Janet, a Dixon high school junior, Barbara, a freshman, and Charles, who is one year old.

Last evening Mrs. Wimpelberg's bridge club presented her with a handkerchief shower when they met for contract games at the home of Mrs. Joe E. Miller. Mrs. Russell Byers, Mrs. Charles Roudy and Mrs. Orville Smith received prizes in bridge.

Chorus Members Honor Mrs. Lepird

Members of the Woman's club chorus were invited to the home of Mrs. Victor Luke last evening as a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Burl Lepird, the club music and radio chairman. The Lepirds expect to become Joliet residents by the end of the month.

Mrs. Earl Auman, the club president, and Mrs. B. J. Frazer were Mrs. Luke's assisting hostesses. The evening was spent visiting.

Mrs. I. B. Potter, director of the chorus, presented the guest of honor with a gift from the club board and chorus members. Mrs. Carl Shively, another member of the chorus who is also planning to move to Joliet, received a gift from the chorus.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

CLUBWOMEN PLAN TO AID BRITISH WAR REFUGEES

A donation of warm clothing, as well as profits from their benefit card party of Tuesday evening will comprise the South Dixon Community club's contribution to British War Relief. It was decided at yesterday's meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Amy Wolfram.

Mrs. William Spangler and Mrs. Jesse Lautzenheiser were Mrs. Wolfram's co-hostesses. A picnic luncheon was served for 14 members and guests.

Since several members could not be present yesterday, election of officers was postponed until Jan. 29, when Mrs. David Moore will entertain. Health suggestions will be shared during roll call at the next meeting, when the clothing contribution is to be collected.

Mrs. Charles Beard and Mrs. Lautzenheiser received favors in 500 at yesterday's gathering.

TO SAN ANTONIO

Mrs. D. E. Miller of Cedar Rapids, Iowa spent the week-end in Dixon as the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Mellett, returning to her home on Tuesday. Yesterday, she left for San Antonio, Tex. to spend the remainder of the winter.

EVENING CLUB

Mrs. Louis Schumm will be entertaining members of her evening bridge club tonight at a scramble dinner and contract.

Signs Relief Bills—Green's press conference followed his signing of a series of five bills appropriating $39,100,000 in relief and pension appropriations for a continuance of public aid programs until June 30. The bill-signing took place in the Executive Mansion offices in the presence of House Speaker Elmer J. Schnackenberg, Lieut. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, Senator Arnold P. Benson, president pro tem of the Senate, and a full force of news and cameramen. Green said he would go to Chicago Sunday to speak before the Associated Jewish Charities, and that he would speak Jan. 29 at St. Louis before a convention of the Illinois Agricultural Association. He said he also had accepted an invitation from Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan to address a Lincoln anniversary observance Feb. 12 at Grand Rapids.

While RAF bombers carried out widespread overnight attacks, Minister of Health Malcolm MacDonald ordered the compulsory removal from Greater London of all children under 14 who might suffer "in mind or body" from the Germans' aerial siege of the city—now in its fifth month. In the Libyan desert campaign, British troops besieging 30,000 Italians at Tobruk took advantage of a respite in a seven-day sandstorm to prepare for the final assault on the fascist garrison. British artillery rained within four miles of Tobruk's outer defenses were reported shelling the town sporadically. An Associated Press correspondent with the British army said the withering fire such as preceded the capture of Bardia has not yet begun on Tobruk.

New Finance Director

To Consider Protests

Against Tax Regulations

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—(AP)—George B. McKibbin, newly appointed director of finance, said today that he would give "very early consideration" to protests against former Governor John Stalle's action in revising the state sales tax regulations to exempt material supplies dealers from payment of the levy.

He said he would study former Attorney General John E. Cassidy's protest against Stalle's revision of Rule 6, Cassidy in November warned dealers to continue payment of the tax regardless of Stalle's revision, declaring that the exemption was unconstitutional.

McKibbin said he had not yet investigated the status of the revised rule to determine whether tax payments from material supplies dealers were continuing.

Japan Says Best Way To Keep FDR's Pledge Is to Withdraw Ships

Tokyo, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The foreign office controlled Japan Times suggested today that "the best way" of keeping President Roosevelt's "pledge that no troops will be sent to foreign soil would be to withdraw the navy to home waters."

Commenting on criticism in the United States congress of the lend-lease bill to aid Britain, The Times said:

"To Japan it looks very much like the United States is going the long way around for sending armed forces into the scene of action abroad" by maintenance of a fleet at Hawaii.

The Tokyo press urged the government to hasten Japan's "southern program" and be ready for resolute action to offset British and United States influence in East Asia.

"Huge overseas naval concentrations are equivalent to extension of national boundaries," the Times said. "In America's case, they suggest dictatorship over the parallels of a latitude below Pearl Harbor, an invitation to others to keep away, therefore a challenge and threat, preliminaries to hostilities, hence a contradiction of America's announced policy of keeping its fighting sons at home."

The government information bureau declined to comment on the statement of U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull to the house foreign affairs committee yesterday evening encoaching by axis powers on the Western Hemisphere in the event of a defeat of Britain.

Marshall Field, 3rd and R. J. Reynolds Called Before Federal Jury

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Marshall Field 3rd of New York and R. J. Reynolds of Winston-Salem, N. C., went before the federal grand jury investigating 1940 political expenditures today, while officials said they had not yet succeeded in serving a second subpoena on Verne Marshall, of the No Foreign War Committee.

Marshall, who also is a newspaper publisher at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, disregarded one subpoena, which was acknowledged later to be obsolete.

Field testified as chairman of the Business Men's League for Roosevelt. Reynolds, who is the new Democratic national treasurer, has told of loans he made Democratic organizations during the campaign.

Says Club Women Are Strongly Against War

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—If a vote of the 2,000,000 members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs could be taken today, asserted Mrs. F. H. Clausen of Horicon, Wis., federation leader, the result would be overwhelmingly against war but unanimously for national defense.

Mrs. Clausen, as chairman of the General Federation's American Citizenship department, told the board of directors at the annual meeting that women have a very definite part in preparations for defense, both individually and as organizations.

Higher taxes required to finance the defense program will leave less to spend on the needs of the home, she said, and women consequently must make intensive studies of consumer problems and the economic aspects of home management.

Wickard 'Capricious, Arbitrary', Says Judge

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Justice Jennings Bailey of District court enjoined Secretary of Agriculture Wickard today from holding a referendum "in its present form" among 60,000 dairymen in the New York milk shed next week.

Justice Bailey held that the cabinet officer was "capricious and arbitrary" in stating that he would suspend the milk program there unless eight amendments previously rejected by the dairymen were approved in the projected referendum.

Army of 1,515,468 is Provided in '41 Budget

Washington, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Maintenance of an army of 1,515,468 men is provided in the War Department budget of $5,976,475,899 for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The department said today that such a force would consist of 1,418,097 enlisted men, including 6,415 Philippine scouts, and 97,371 officers. The officer strength would include 64,500 reserve officers on active duty.

The budget provides funds for assembling large units in the summer for field training, the department said.

Destruction of

was danger of an air invasion if the British fleet were destroyed or otherwise rendered ineffective for this country's protection.

Stimson took the stand today after Treasury Secretary Morgenthau declared yesterday that England's war orders here have virtually been halted by a lack of ready cash.

Kennedy to Testify

Meanwhile, it was learned that Joseph P. Kennedy, retiring ambassador to London, would testify before the House committee Tuesday. Kennedy was an early morning visitor at both the White House and state department today.

The present situation with regard to production of munitions, Stimson said, is "much more acute" than was that of 1917.

Stimson gave this description of the program which the lend-lease bill would authorize the President to undertake:

Pictures Authority

"It is the essence of the President's plan, as I understand it, that the United States shall become virtually the sole purchasing unit for war materials to be ordered from the manufacturers of this country; and that consistent with our national policy, we shall then be in a position to appropriate these munitions among ourselves and other democracies whose defense is important to us."

"This plan has many advantages. It will eliminate the competition of many different purchasing agencies from different countries x x x It enables us to build up a well-ordered system of placing contracts and to utilize and carry into effect the studies which have been made over a period of 20 years."

Stimson was the only witness called today. Secretary of Navy Knox and William S. Knudsen, director general of defense production, will present their testimony tomorrow.

Pittman Act Cited

The measure, Stimson continued, is "not a radical departure" from existing legislation. He cited the Pittman act under which the President was authorized to aid American republics.

"I think it is manifest," he said, "that today the defense of Great Britain is of least as great concern to the United States, as say, the defense of Paraguay."

Before Stimson began reading his prepared statement, Representative Tinkham (R-Mass) tried unsuccessfully to read as background for Stimson's impending testimony what the congressman described as "certain statements the secretary has made" and excerpts from the 1940 platforms of the Democratic and Republican conventions.

Chairman Bloom (D-NY) ruled that Tinkham was "out of order" at that time.

The house committee, in the opening hearing yesterday on the momentous legislation, devoted all its time to Morgenthau and Secretary of State Hull, in the strongest terms both cabinet officers urged passage of the bill as a step essential to defense of the United States.

When the hearing recessed, Rep. Fish of New York, ranking Republican member of the committee and announced leader of house opposition to the bill, announced 8 of 17 witnesses he had invited had accepted and would appear next week. Chairman Bloom (D-NY) told reporters however that he knew "nothing about" arrangements for their appearance.

Those Fish said had accepted included Wendell Willkie, the Republican presidential candidate in the recent election; Norman Thomas, socialist party leader; General Hugh Johnson, and Verne Marshall, chairman of the No Foreign Wars Committee.

"Balance Sheet" Given

Morgenthau placed in the committee record yesterday the British "balance sheet" which so many legislators have wanted to see before making up their minds whether to support President Roosevelt's program for making the United States "the great arsenal of emulated democracies."

He said he was giving it with the "consent of the British government" and remarked that it was the "first time in history that one government put at the disposal of another figures of this nature."

The balance sheet offered this at-a-glance picture of Britain's status in dollar exchange:

On hand, Jan. 1, 1941—$1,775,000,000.

Receipts expected in 1941—$1,555,000,000.

Expenditures to be met in 1941—$3,019,000,000.

Amount left for all future orders—$11,000,000.

"I am satisfied," Morgenthau informed the committee, "that Britain can pay this year for what she has already bought with dollars, but when it comes to finding dollars to pay for anything else which they need they just haven't got it."

He said the war was costing Britain 12,000,000 pounds (around $60,000,000) a day, with 40 per cent being raised by taxes and 60 per cent by borrowing.

The treasury head said Britain already had paid for and taken delivery on $1,337,000,000 worth of war equipment and supplies in the United States up to Jan. 1.

Investments Estimated

Besides the balance sheet, Morgenthau offered for the record a tabulation estimating long term investments of the United Kingdom outside the United States at a "nominal" value of $15,500,000,000, but said much of these could not be converted readily into dollars.

"Because the money isn't in sight," he said, the British Purchasing Commission here had virtually ceased placing future orders for needed supplies.

"At one juncture, Rep. Vorys, (R-Ohio) inquired as to prospects for British repayment of the supplies in kind after the war, as provided in the bill.

"Whether we get paid back or not, I don't know. And I am not going to make any prophesies," Morgenthau replied.

The treasury chief was the second witness to the questioning, drew from the first cabinet officer to face the committee, and he read from a long prepared statement reviewing the nation's foreign policies and urging all speed in aiding Britain.

"The forces of conquest," he declared, are "now on the march across the earth." Presenting a particularized indictment of the record of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis, he told the committee that the "law of self-defense" was now and must be the nation's guiding principle.

Searching Examinations

Hull and Morgenthau both were subjected to cross-examination so thorough that veteran observers could not recall its like in recent years when cabinet officers were on the stand in a public session.

The Republican members, who did most of the questioning, drew from Morgenthau an opinion that, under the bill, Roosevelt could transfer American warships to Britain, if he wished, but that American ships might not be used to transport war goods to Europe.

Opening Session

Opening the morning session the Rev. H. Jesse Baker of the Polo Church of the Brethren pronounced the invocation. Grant Burman issued the welcome to the farmers and their wives and Henry Stahler, president of the institute, gave his annual report.

The afternoon session opened with vocal selections by the boys' quartet of the Polo high school and I. D. Heckman of Cairo, Ill., spoke on the subject of "America's Greatest Need." The afternoon session concluded with a discussion of the 1941 farm program with Ogle county's farm adviser, D. E. Warren, leading the forum.

Polo's high school orchestra, C. E. Ros directing, opened the evening session and Miss R. Louise Travous of Edwardsville spoke on the subject of "The Home, A Business Partnership."

Highlighting the evening program was a one-act play, "Five for Bad Luck," presented by the Polo Rural Youth Group.

The Rev. L. V. Lovell, pastor of the Polo Christian church, opened this morning's session with the invocation and Paul Shuman of El Paso spoke on the subject of "Pork Production on Illinois farms."

THE PIGEON MASSACRE

It was hardly necessary to publish the item in Tuesday's Telegraph regarding the shooting of the pigeons Monday afternoon as anyone within a six mile radius could hear the blasting of the shot guns as the big he-men took pot shots at these beautiful birds, killing a few, and wounding many.

During the week of the Christmas shoot (they have one every two weeks or so) I called on our

Mayor to find out what right the law against the discharge of firearms within the city limits could be so flagrantly violated, and his answer was that it was done with his (the Mayor's) special permission.

The Mayor stated that the pigeons constituted a nuisance and had to be disposed of for that reason. When I suggested trapping them and humanely destroying them he said it could not be done although he admitted that it never had been tried in Dixon. I think that the truth is that certain people enjoy eating pigeon pie, and that is the reason for the massacre of these birds in Dixon.

In many cities the presence of pigeons is welcomed and anyone who has witnessed the feeding of the pigeons on the steps of St. Paul's Cathedral in London or has seen the pigeons in downtown Chicago, Milwaukee and other places will bear me out. To me they represent peace, and the fact that they are always found on or around churches has always added to that significance.

There is a lot of talk going on regarding the saving of civilization in Europe. Why not start with some civilization in Dixon first?

Liner Resists Efforts to Budge Her Off Bar

West Palm Beach, Fla., Jan. 15 (AP) - Resisting efforts to budge her from a sandbar, the 24,289-ton liner Manhattan remained hard aground today while most of her 200 cruise passengers lled in the sun at Palm Beach. Salvage operators planned to pump 2,500 gallons of oil from the Manhattan into oil barges to lighten the vessel.

Capt. G. V. Richardson said the vessel grounded while changing its course Sunday night. He described the mishap as "one of those things".

One performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony by the New York Philharmonic orchestra costs about $300.

So far as human beings as a whole are concerned, the mallard is the most important of all ducks.

There are about 178,000 miles of roads in England.

YES! Our Paper Coffee Bags Save Housewives $10,000,000 Yearly

● Of course you realize that the price you pay for anything includes the cost of the package or container that it is packed in. For this reason this story is of real interest to you...

A&P packs its famous coffees in inexpensive paper bags and this simple economy saves American housewives ten million dollars every year.

A&P can do this for a very plain reason. Its coffees are sold only in its own stores and super markets. A&P knows exactly where and when they will be ground. They do not wait for days or weeks in wholesalers' warehouses or on grocers' shelves. They are never ground beforehand in distant factories. Thus they can be shipped with the full fine flavor sealed in the bean and ground only to your order, completely eliminating the necessity for expensive containers for further protection.

Amazing as this saving of ten million dollars may seem, it is only one of countless efficiencies A&P has introduced into its business.

For more than 80 years, A&P's one aim has been to develop ways of eliminating unnecessary expense in making and distributing foods... to the end that its stores can provide more and better foods for more people for less money...

The A&P Super Market is the newest and greatest expression of A&P's aim to give its customers more fine foods for their money. For the A&P Super Market is the most economical and efficient food store ever invented. It offers you groceries, meat and fish, fruits and vegetables, baked goods and dairy products. And because it sells so much more fine food to so many more people, under one big roof, its selling costs are lower, in our belief, than any group of stores have ever before been able to successfully maintain. Therefore, if you buy all your foods in your A&P Super Market—your grocery bill will be less.* For prices are low throughout A&P Super Markets every day of the week. Shop at your A&P Super Market today and save! It's fun to go A&P Super Marketing!

*You gain nothing from "special bargains" when you are charged higher prices for other things to make up for them. At A&P Super Markets you get a low average price on all foods offered. Thus you keep your complete food bill low.

SALUTE FOR BANANAS

"Vitamins B and C have rehabilitated the banana in the infant diet," writes Dr. Henry Borsook in his educational book, "Vitamins—What They Are and How They Can Benefit You." The noted professor of Biochemistry continues:

"Not many years ago, if a baby was seen eating a banana, there would be cries of constipation from the onlookers and prophecies of dire consequences. Now, the myth of its indigestibility has vanished along with a good many other dietary myths.

"Its value as a source of vitamin B and carbohydrate has already been pointed out. It is an equally good source of vitamin C. One banana contains about 7 milligrams of vitamin C, more than half the daily requirement of a baby less than a year old.

Stressing the value of "green leafy vegetables," Professor Borsook mentions Brussels sprouts and watercress as rich in vitamin C. Watercress also is noted for an abundance of vitamin E. His comment on cabbage and how to cook it is worth passing on:

One of the cheapest rich vegetable sources of vitamin C is cabbage. It contains from 100 to 200 milligrams per pound (fresh weight), but the usual method of cooking cabbage results in the destruction of nearly all the vitamin. In order to preserve the vitamin in cabbage, it is necessary to plunge the leaves first into boiling water for a few minutes and then to cook them at a high temperature for as short a time as is necessary to make the cabbage palatable.

"Some loss of vitamin C in cooking vegetables is unavoidable; nearly all is lost if the water is discarded, or if soda is used."

FRUIT-FLAVORED DAINTIES

Orange All-Brain Sugar Tarts
1/2 cup butter.
1 cup sugar.
1 egg.
1/2 cup all-brain.
3 cups sifted flour.
3/4 teaspoon baking powder.
3/4 teaspoon salt.
1-3 cup orange juice.
2 tablespoons grated orange rind.
Colored sugar.

Blend butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well. Add all-brain. Sift flour with baking powder and salt and add to first mixture alternately with orange juice. Stir in orange rind. Chill. Roll out dough to about 1/8 inch thickness, working with a small amount at a time and keeping the remainder chilled. Cut into fancy shapes with floured cutters. Sprinkle with colored sugar and bake on greased baking sheet in moderately hot oven 375 degrees F. about 10 minutes. Yield: 5 dozen cookies (various shapes). Note: To make colored sugar, rub 1 or more drops of coloring into 1/2 cup sugar.

Orange Pudding

5 or 6 oranges.
1 cup sugar.
2 tablespoons cornstarch.
2 tablespoons sugar.
3 eggs.

Milk to moisten.
Remove skins from sections of oranges. Place sections in baking utensil and pour one cup sugar over them. Prepare this custard in double boiler: Pint milk, when hot slowly add cornstarch moistened and stirred smooth with a little cool milk; cook full 10 minutes; add egg yolks, stir and remove from heat. Pour custard over oranges. Beat egg whites stiff with the 2 tablespoons sugar. Spread over yolks and brown delicately in a very slow oven.

DESSERTS MEN ORDER

Chantilly Deep Apple Pie

Here is a "request" recipe from Cooking School students:

5 cups apples, thinly sliced.
1/2 cup granulated sugar.
1/2 cup brown sugar.
1/2 teaspoon allspice.
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon.
2 tablespoons butter.
1/2 cup thin cream or top milk.

In measuring the brown sugar, pack it firmly in the cup. Mix sugars, allspice and cinnamon together. Sprinkle one-half over thinly sliced apples. Fill baking dish with remaining apples and cover with rest of sugar mixture. Dot filling with butter.

Roll pie pastry in a rectangle 1/4 inch thick and cut five decorative openings. Fit dough over apples, turning under a 1/2 inch edges. Seal edges of pie. Brush with milk or water and sprinkle with sugar. Bake 30 to 40 minutes in hot oven 425 degrees F. About 5 minutes before pie is done, pour 1/2 cup cream into pie through openings. Serve warm. Serves six. (If pastry mix is used for shell, allow 1 1/4 cups mix.)

Flaky Pie Shell

1 1/4 cups sifted flour.
1/2 teaspoon salt.
1-3 cup shortening.
3 tablespoons cold water (about).
Sift all-purpose flour and salt together. Add 1/2 of the shortening to flour. Cut in until mixture looks like meal. Add remaining shortening and continue cutting until particles are the size of a navy bean. Sprinkle water, 1 tablespoon at a time, over mixture. With a fork, work lightly together until a dough is formed. Roll dough 1/4 inch thick. If shell is to be baked before filling is added, prick with a fork. Place dough in pan and let relax 5 minutes. Pat with ball of dough. Trim pastry 1/2 inch larger than pan and turn back edge. Flute rim. Bake 15 minutes in a very hot oven 450 degrees F.

SUBSTANCE WITH FRUIT

Baked Apples Stuffed With Sausage

1 pound pork sausage.
6 tart apples.
1 cup sugar.
1 cup water.
Place sausage in frying pan and cook over moderate heat until half done. Wash and pare the apples and core. Stuff with partially cooked sausage. Place in fairly deep baking utensil. Sprinkle with sugar and add the water. Cover and bake in moderate oven 375 degrees F. until apples are tender and sausage is thoroughly cooked. (Time depends on size and type of apples used.) Serve on piping hot platter, or directly from baking utensil.

Banana Chicken Salad

1 cup sliced or diced ripe bananas. (1 to 2 bananas).
1/2 cup diced pineapple (canned or fresh).
1/4 cup sliced or chopped olives.
1 1/2 teaspoons salt.
2 tablespoons mayonnaise.
1 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken.

Combine bananas and pineapple. (Pineapple will prevent bananas from discoloring.) Add chicken, celery, olives, salt and mayonnaise. Mix lightly. Serve with crisp lettuce or watercress. Four to 6 servings.

Banana chicken salad makes a delicious filling for white or whole wheat bread sandwiches. Jelly toasties: For a new tea treat, spread round crackers with butter, then cover lightly with a tart jelly and sprinkle with coconut. Toast in the oven until browned and serve warm.

Strikers Return to Work Today at Detroit Plants

Detroit, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Strikers began returning to work in Eaton Manufacturing company plants today under a peace plan speeded into effect in the name of national defense.

Four plants closed by sympathy strikes were reopened, and at a fifth at Saginaw, Mich., scene of the original dispute, preparations were made for carrying out a rehiring plan.

The company and the striking CIO-United Automobile Workers reached an agreement last night, 36 hours after federal conciliator James F. Dewey had demanded that the strikes cease and that the company reopen its closed plants.

The strikes, which had threatened to interrupt production of airplane engine parts for defense orders, began Monday in the Saginaw plant with the UAW-CIO charging that the company refused to keep a rehiring agreement reached after a walkout in November.

Sympathy strikes by the CIO union followed at plants in Detroit, Battle Creek, and Marshall, Mich., and at Cleveland. All four of these plants were closed, while the Saginaw plant continued operations.

The original strike issued involved the rival AFL-United Automobile Workers' contract at the Saginaw plant, which the UAW-CIO challenged with a declaration that its membership included a majority of the workers.

Dewey said the strike settlement "does not involve the AFL contract, nor does it interfere with the status of the AFL."

(The National Labor Relations Board is currently hearing arguments on the UAW-CIO's petition for an employee at Saginaw.)

TWO DIE IN CRASH

Calumet City, Ill., Jan. 16.—(AP)—A man and a woman were killed last night when their automobile was struck by a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train.

The victims were Alvin C. Guetow, 39, of Markham, Ill., and Miss Martha Barry, 28, of Bicknell, Ind., who had been living in Calumet City. An inquest was set for this afternoon.

"INSIDE YOUR CONGRESS"

WHAT'S WRONG WITH NLRB?

The majority report of the Committee of the House of Representatives on the Wagner Act is a document of importance. It is the result of an 18 months' investigation of the National Labor Relations Board. A bill to modify the Wagner Act, sponsored by Chairman Howard Smith of Virginia and substantially approved by the American Federation of Labor, passed the House last session two to one, but died in the Senate under administration pressure.

Without doubt new legislation will be introduced in the present Congress. The report just filed will be background material.

All that Americans once asked was a "square deal". The new idea in government, however, seems to be a packed Court, Board or Commission. This theory has worked with great damage not to industrial management alone, but to large groups of workingmen.

The most interesting part of Chairman Smith's report concerns the anti-American affiliations and associations of the National Labor Relations Board and its personnel. The report states:

"From the very highest to the lowest of its employees, a 'leftist' philosophy, together with its attendant prejudice and bias, and a certain overzealousness inconsistent with the judicial temperament so requisite for the proper administration of the Act, became evident throughout the operations and personnel of the Board, and found expression in its decisions."

Here are samples of the Russian theories entertained by personnel. One of its regional attorneys wrote with reference to the New York World's Fair: "Be sure to see the Russian layout. Just seeing this exhibit might work up an interest in you not only to see the country, but also to become a citizen of Russia". There is no evidence, however, that the writer has gone to that happy land.

Another member of the staff wrote: "I saw the New York World's Fair—the last orgasm of capitalism."

Another, referring to the Supreme Court, said: "The Morgan decision had us disturbed greatly for a few days, but the courts have on their 'red' robes again and we are on top of the world."

David Saposs, born in Russia, and a lecturer at the Brookwood Labor College, denounced by the American Federation of Labor as a communist school, was appointed director of the Division of Economic Research. He writes of "those profound social diagnostics, Karl Marx and Frederick Engels". The report states that "Left Wing Unionism" was published for Saposs by the International Publishers, Inc., of New York City, described as the official Soviet Union Publishing House in the United States.

One Abraham L. Wirin, another native of Russia, was made senior officer attorney at a salary of $3800 per annum. His appointment was protested vigorously by Senator McAdoo of California, but chairman J. Warren Madden, just appointed to the Court of Claims, staunchly defended Wirin. Wirin was loaned by the NLRB to the LaFollette Civil Liberties where he released information to the "People's Press", a leftist publication, in advance of committee hearings. As a result Senator LaFollette discharged him "for a flagrant violation of written staff instructions", but without any reprimand from NLRB.

Many of the lawyers employed by the Board at Washington are members of the National Lawyers Guild, from which Assistant Secretary of State A. A. Berle recently resigned, with the statement: "It is now obvious that the present management of the Guild is not prepared to take any stand which conflicts with the Communist party line."

Saposs said that the Guild "supported a large number of Communist ideals. Guild members have in many respects followed the line."

"The line", of course, refers to decisions on policy made by the Communist International either in Moscow or New York.

Loyalty to this supergovernment comes first to followers of "the line", the Constitution of the United States, second, if at all.

There were in the personnel of NLRB many whose loyalty to our institutions cannot be questioned. And President Roosevelt is moving to clean up the mess by his recent appointments of Leiserson and Mills. In doing so, and in handling national defense difficulties such as the recent Vultee strike, said by the Attorney General to have been inspired by Communists, he must have the support of every loyal citizen, which includes workingmen in overwhelming majority. The interesting point is, however, that it was not the Bund which interested NLRB. It was the followers of Moscow. And the question remains unanswered—why it is that it is only when Hitler commits an atrocity that the alarm bells ring in Washington?

Michigan Judges Are Warned Labor is Out to Get Some of Them

Detroit, Jan. 16.—(AP)—A CIO labor leader lectured members of the Michigan bench and bar at a testimonial dinner for one of their number last night, warning Wayne county Circuit judges that "labor is out to get some of you" in the nonpartisan spring election.

The speaker was George F. Addes, international secretary-treasurer of the United Automobile Workers (CIO). The occasion was a banquet honoring Judge Ira W. Jayne, who presides over the Wayne county circuit.

Addes declared labor expected a judge to "know the law and have integrity" but wanted "more than that." Adding that labor "does not want special favors," he asserted that "labor expects its judges to have a sacred regard for civil and labor rights."

FOUND DEAD IN CAR

Deputy Coroner Willard Blood said death apparently was caused by heart disease.

Negro Organization's Right to Wear Army's Uniform is Withdrawn

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The Military Order of Guards—the only private military organization in the nation officially allowed to wear U. S. Army uniforms—is going to lose that right, effective tomorrow.

This was announced today by Gen. Frank Stewart, 58-year-old negro commander-in-chief of the organization, which has 10,000 members representing every nationality in nearly every state.

Gen. Stewart said that a war department order rescinded the federal authorization to wear the regulation army uniform during the present "national emergency."

The guards won their right to wear the Army uniform back in 1916 because of the work they were doing in giving men military training. During the World war the organization helped to train at least 4,500 men who were registered with Chicago draft boards.

KERCHOO! KERCHOO! KERCHOO! KERCHOO! KERCHOO! KERCHOO!

New "Anti-Sneeze" Rinso

is 98% free of the "soap-dust" that causes sneezing

[There's up to a quarter pound of irritating "soap-dust" in many other widely used package soaps]

MARY: Dishwashing is bad enough—but this awful "dishpan hay-fever" makes it even worse. K-KERCHOO!

JANE: Silly girl! Get the New "Anti-Sneeze" Rinso. Then there won't be a cloud of "soap-dust" rising up from the dishpan to cause sneezing spells.

MARY: Oh, how grand! I must try it.

JANE: Rinso gives heaps of suds in a twink. It loosens grease in a jiffy, too. Besides, Mary, it costs less than 1¢ a day to wash dishes with Rinso.

MARY: And I can see the New "Anti-Sneeze" Rinso is easy on your hands.

—All Photos Copyright, 1941 by the News Syndicate, Inc. —NEA Telephoto

The crowded shopping district at Fifth Avenue and 34th Street in New York, was a battlefield during lunch hour when two bandits killed an office manager and a policeman and shot two others before one robber was killed and the other captured. The chase led through several crowded stores.

Summoned by spectators, Policeman Edward Maher, draws his gun as he rushes to scene of hold-up.

Officer Maher lies dead a few seconds later on sidewalk, at right in background, beyond the wounded cab driver, Leonard Weisberg, while spectators bend over wounded bandit suspect Angelo De Stefano (arrow) who was shot by Maher.

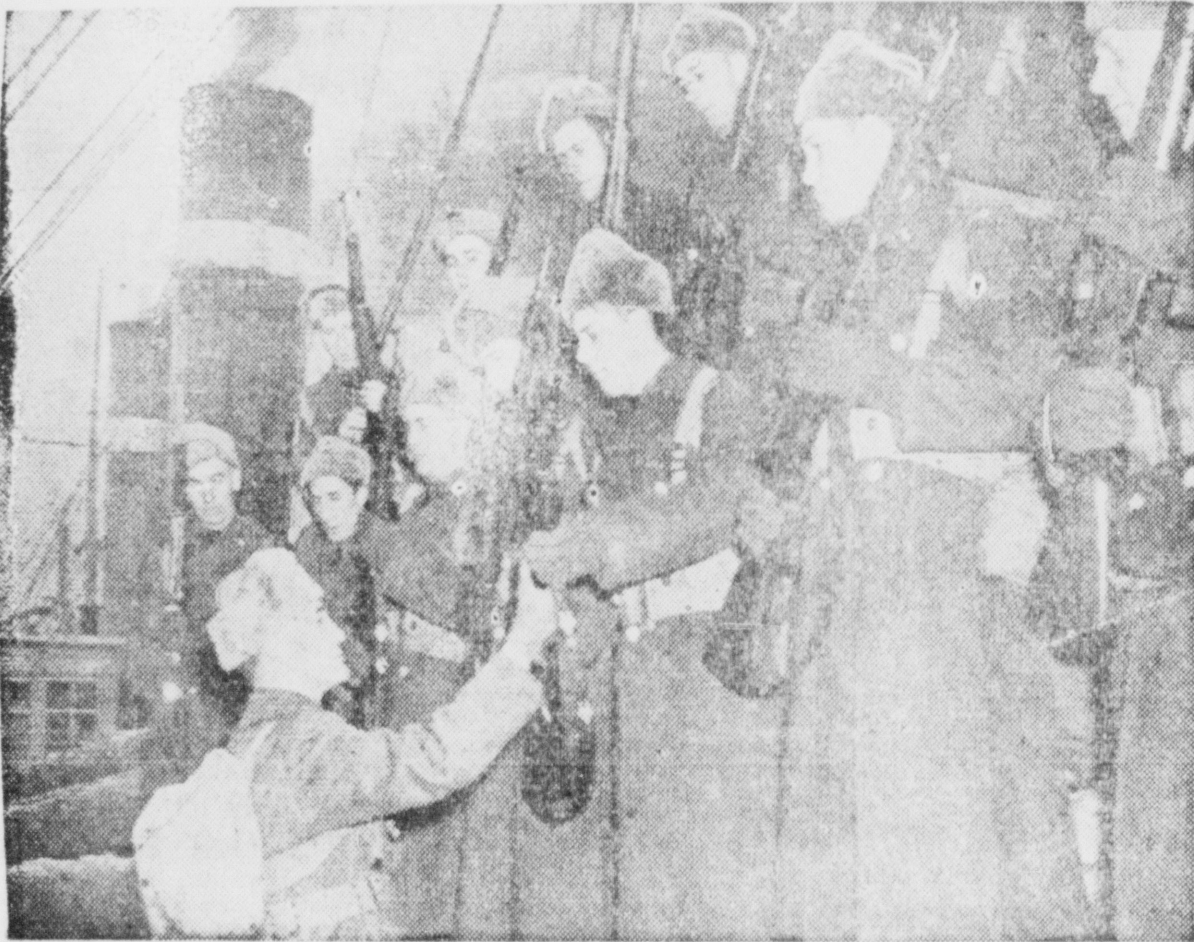

George Baxter, doorman at Altman's Department Store has toe hold on wounded bandit suspect Angelo De Stefano, before he died, while spectators hold guns abandoned by combatants.

Police take second bandit suspect from 5 and 10 Cent Store near scene of gun battle, after his capture. Large crowd in store prevented gun play and police were able to get him without shooting. The second suspect is Joseph De Stefano, brother of the dead suspect.

WILLIAMS TEAM RETURNS TO TOP OF BOWLING LOOP

Welty Quintet Loses Three Games to Drop To Second Place

You gotta look twice at the leaders of the big classic bowling league—and even when you do, you can't be sure which quintet is on top. Last week the Welty Pontiacs held the spotlight, but after the games last night the Williams DeSoto rushed to the top again and the whole thing became as puzzling as the array of new models at an auto show. "You pays your nicker and you takes your choice."

The DeSoto team won two games from Keeley's quintet to recapture the lead. Ed Worley rolled a 606 series to top the winners and Capone paced the losers with a 522 count. The winners overcame a severe handicap disadvantage to win.

Beier's Bread won three games from the Pontiacs. Only one pin separated the two teams in handicap totals. Lessner led the losers with a 507 count while Breeding rolled 571 for the winners.

United Cigar Wins Series

United Cigar won three games from the I. N. U. team with Fitzsimmons packing the smokers with a 534 series and Schertner counting 505 for the utilities.

Hi-Way Grill won two games from the Wilbur Lumber company as Daschbach led the woodmen with 530 and Joyce passed the losers with 498.

Dixon Machine Works won two games from the Sunstik Pies with Hawker's 467 series leading the winners and Carlson rolling 554 for the piemen.

Knacks won two games from Jay's Tavern as Smith counted 591 for the winners and Huggins rolled 515 for the losers.

Potters took two games from Coca Cola with M. Potter setting the pace for his mates with a 484 series and Willamowski, a newcomer, counting 509 for the Coca Cola five.

No records were broken last night and high games included those of: Smith 219-202; Becker 203; Huggins 200; Corso 211; Meyers 222; Giannoni 201; Breeding 211; Wolfe 209-210; Worley 202-223.

Rosters of Table Tennis Teams Are Set for Opening

Local celluloid-whackers will begin bounding the table tennis ball across the Elks club boards here Monday night as the newly-organized league gets going in full force.

Last night a meeting of the circuit was held at the clubhouse and a tentative roster of teams was arranged. Members of the Reynolds team include: Richard Joslyn, Russell Brown, Beelar Gibson, Dick Campbell.

Aces: Raymond Herbert, Gunnar Nilsson, Leo Miller, Lyle Melvin and Warren Badger.

Royal Blue: Bradley and Graydon Moll, Robert Bovey, Art Cron, Dan Branigan and David Crawford.

Ploymans: Joe Hall, Lowell Whitebread, Carl Ploymann, Leo Miles and George Lebie.

Knacks: Walter Knack, Jr., Bob Harmon, Eustace Shaw, Ward Smith and John Bovey.

I. N. U.: Ben Roe, Joe Graff, Red Flanagan, Lloyd Phelps and Corbus Hoffman.

Monday night's game will pit the Reynolds vs. Knacks at 7 o'clock. Aces vs. I. N. U. at 8 o'clock and Myers Royal Blue vs. Ploymans at 9 o'clock.

A meeting of the league will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in the basement of the Elks at which time final arrangements will be made for the opening on Monday.

URBANA OFFICIALS TO PLAY ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE UNDER SPECIAL SET OF RULES

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 16.—(AP)—A special set of 18 rules has been adopted to cover a basketball game here between city officials and members of the Association of Commerce on Jan. 23.

One rule, designed to protect (B) the eyesight of spectators and participants provides:

"All players of the dignified ball head classification must secure proper covering to eliminate undue reflection upon the audience or an unfair advantage on opposing team. Men who can show an ample growth of fuzz may be eliminated from this rule by the floor manager."

No particular type of head covering was specified.

The game is a benefit performance to help the new high school band buy uniforms. Even the players (basketball) must purchase tickets before entering the gymnasium.

BROWN'S OHIO STATE GRID TEAM WILL BAR ALL SISSIES

Columbus, O., Jan. 16.—(AP)—Coach Paul Brown's 1941 Ohio State university football team will be no place for "sissies."

Brown, who leaped from Massillon high school to the nation's fifth largest college, says he will restrict the Buckeye varsity squad to 40 men, all of whom must be capable of playing 60 minutes of every game.

He expects his boys to "stand up—not lie down"—during timeouts, and to "run—not walk"—from one end of the field to the other when the teams change goals at the quarter.

"And there will be no water on field," Brown told a banquet audience last night.

So plentiful are large-mouth bass in Lake Mattamuskeet, N. C. that there never is a closed season on them.

Scrapbooks Kept by Joe Cannon to Illinois Library

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16—(AP)—More than 5,000 letters and 25 scrapbooks collected by "Uncle Joe" Cannon during his long career as congressman from Illinois and speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives have been placed in the archives of the State Historical Library.

The collection was recently donated to the state library by the Cannon heirs, Mrs. Helen Abdill of Danville, and Mrs. Virginia Houghteling of San Francisco. Librarian Paul Angle said today. Cannon, known by his fellow congressmen in earlier years as the "hayseed member from Illinois" and later universally as "Uncle Joe", served in the House from 1873 to 1923, with intervals of private life after election defeats in 1891 and 1913. He was born in 1836, practiced law in Shelbyville, Ill., in 1858, lived in Tusculum and later in Danville.

"Rough and Vigorous"
His long life of political leadership was often referred to as "Cannonism" because it was known by historians as "rough and vigorous".

Covering a period from 1879 to 1925, the collection consists chiefly of letters to Congressman Cannon. Notable among the correspondence is a file of letter written during 1903-06 by Theodore Roosevelt.

The scrapbooks contain numerous clippings about Cannon, apparently collected by a clipping agency. In some instances where he made a particular statement such as "the world is better today" he had dozens of clippings from many different newspapers throughout the country reporting the statement.

Another file contains several hundreds of telegrams asking him either to vote "yes" or "no" on some bill before the House.

Civilians Working in Navy Yards Asked to Set Production Pace

Philadelphia, Jan. 16—(AP)—The navy called on its civilian employees today to set a good example to workers in private defense plants by redoubling their production efforts—an appeal which some quarters believe may presage a lengthening of the work week in navy yards.

Authoritative sources disclosed the navy department dispatched letters to the commanders of navy yards and other shore establishments directing them to impress civilian workers with the necessity of increasing production of warships and armaments in an effort to speed the defense program.

The basic work week for navy yard employees is 40 hours, although many now work 48 and are paid overtime for the extra 8 hours.
